

Ash Class Autumn 2 Review

In Ash Class this half term, our topic has been 'Panic on Pudding Lane' and we have found out exactly why people panicked!

In our history lessons, we have explored The Great Fire of London, its causes, how it spread and why it eventually came to an end. We even took part in a Great Fire of London experience day with our friends at Ab Kettleby! We had a go at putting out the fire using buckets and water squirts.

Using our experience at Ab Kettleby, we had a go at writing instructions all about how you would put out a fire if you lived in 1666. During our learning all about instructions and what to include in them, we followed a set of instructions on how to make lemonade. We followed each step carefully and spotted key features of instructions too! Finally, we got to taste our lemonade. It was delicious!

In our art this term, we have been exploring what the houses looked like in 1666. We created a clay house tile to resemble houses in 1666. We carefully used the 'score and slip' method to join our clay pieces together.

We have been learning all about how to play basketball this half term. Our skills have progressed and we even had a go at playing a mini match within our class.
